People to People members want to spread peace around the world

Comment on this story

The Quad Cities Junior High group of People to People Student Ambassador International Program collected items and filled more than 50 foster bags, several bags of pillows and more. The foster bags went to Bethany For Children & Families to help ease the need foster parents have with incoming children. The People to People group will take a 20-day educational trip to Italy, France, Austria and Switzerland at the end of June. Their mission is to bring peace and understanding to the people and countries they encounter.

They also will perform community service projects in Vienna, Austria, and Strasbourg, France. Pictured in front are Emily Bray, of Clinton; Abby Smithson, Preston, Iowa; Grace Leslie, Maysville, Iowa; Jordon Jackson, Silvis; Kayli Ahuja, Rock Island; and Cierra Stanley, Galesbug. In back are Hannah McKay, Bettendorf; Katy Axel, Davenport; Sam Kennedy, Rock Island; Colin Hawkinson, Davenport; Marcus Mills, Letts, Iowa; Jenny Hager with Bethany For Children & Families; and Rachel Lyle, Davenport. Not pictured but part of the group are Tommy Hillyer, Moline; Kauren Coon, Geneseo; Cindy Chen, Davenport; and People to People leader Jan Carpenter.
